Notice of Failure to Satisfy a Continued Listing Rule or Standard

On June 18, 2026, Apollomics Inc. (the “Company”) received a written notice (the “Notice”) from the Listing Qualifications Department of The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC (“Nasdaq”) indicating that the Company is not in compliance with the minimum Market Value of Listed Securities (“MVLS”) of $35 million required for continued listing on The Nasdaq Capital Market, as set forth in Nasdaq Listing Rule 5550(b)(2). The Notice further states that the Company also does not meet the alternative requirements under Nasdaq Listing Rules 5550(b)(1) and 5550(b)(3).

In accordance with Nasdaq Listing Rule 5810(c)(3)(C), the Company has been provided a compliance period of 180 calendar days, or until December 15, 2026, to regain compliance. The Notice has no immediate effect on the listing of the Company’s securities, and the Company’s securities continue to trade on Nasdaq under the symbol “APLM”.

Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement

In a separate corporate development, effective June 11, 2026, the Company formally terminated its Collaboration and License Agreement with Launxp International Co., Ltd. (“Launxp”). The termination was due to Launxp’s failure to cure a material breach of its obligations under the agreement, specifically the failure to remit the remaining upfront payment balance of $3.8 million along with applicable interest. In accordance with the terms of the agreement, all licenses previously granted to Launxp have automatically and immediately terminated. Following Launxp’s public expression of disagreement with the termination, the Company formally initiated the contractually mandated dispute resolution process on June 18, 2026.

Financial Statements and Exhibits

The Company issued a press release on June 24, 2026, announcing the receipt of the Notice and the corporate update regarding the termination of the Launxp agreement. A copy of the press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.

The information contained in this Form 6-K is incorporated by reference into the Company’s registration statements under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, including its registration statements on Form S-8 (File Nos. 333-272559 and 333-293148) and Form F-3 (File Nos. 333-278430, 333-278431, 333-279549, and 333-294154), and shall be a part thereof, to the extent not superseded by documents or reports subsequently filed or furnished.

Apollomics Receives Nasdaq Deficiency Notice Regarding Minimum Market Value Requirement and Updates Rights for Vebreltinib (APL-101) in Asia

FOSTER CITY, CALIF. – June 24, 2026 – Apollomics Inc. (Nasdaq: APLM) (“Apollomics” or the “Company”), a late-stage clinical biopharmaceutical company developing multiple oncology drug candidates to address difficult-to-treat and treatment-resistant cancers, today announced that it has received a notice (the “Notice”) from The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC (“Nasdaq”) dated June 18, 2026 stating that the Company is not in compliance with the requirement to maintain a minimum Market Value of Listed Securities (“MVLS”) of $35 million as set forth under Nasdaq Listing Rule for continued listing on The Nasdaq Capital Market.

Nasdaq Listing Rule 5550(b)(2) requires companies to maintain a minimum MVLS of $35 million, and Nasdaq Listing Rule 5810(c)(3)(C) specifies that a deficiency occurs if the MVLS falls below this threshold for 30 consecutive business days. Based on the Company’s MVLS for the 30 consecutive business days from May 6, 2026, to June 17, 2026, the Company no longer meets this requirement. The Notice further states that the Company also does not meet the alternative requirements under Nasdaq Listing Rules 5550(b)(1) and 5550(b)(3).

According to Nasdaq Listing Rule 5810(c)(3)(C), the Company has a 180-calendar-day compliance period to regain compliance, which expires on December 15, 2026. If, during this period, the Company’s MVLS closes at or above $35 million for a minimum of 10 consecutive business days (which may be subject to extension in Nasdaq’s discretion), Nasdaq will provide the Company written confirmation of its compliance, and the matter will be closed.

In the event the Company does not regain compliance with the Rule prior to the expiration of the compliance period, it will receive written notification that its securities are subject to delisting.

The Notice has no immediate effect as to the listing of the Company’s securities and the Company’s securities continue to trade on Nasdaq. There can be no assurance that the Company will regain compliance.

Corporate: Updates Rights for Vebreltinib (APL-101) in Asia

In a separate corporate development, effective June 11, 2026, Apollomics formally terminated its Collaboration and License Agreement with Launxp International Co., Ltd. due to Launxp’s failure to cure a material breach of its obligations, specifically the failure to remit the remaining upfront payment balance of $3.8 million along with applicable interest. In accordance with the terms of the agreement, all licenses previously granted to Launxp have automatically and immediately terminated.

Following Launxp’s public expression of disagreement with the termination, Apollomics formally initiated the contractually mandated dispute resolution process on June 18, 2026. This process commences with a 30-day internal negotiation period, which, if unresolved, will be followed by a subsequent escalation to the Executive Officers of both parties for further resolution. Apollomics is pursuing the recovery of the unpaid $3.8 million and associated interest, and intends to defend its termination of the agreement and its rights.

As a result of this termination, Apollomics has regained the previously licensed rights to its lead clinical asset, vebreltinib (APL-101), in Asia. Together with the rights already retained by the Company, Apollomics now holds all global rights to the asset outside of Mainland China and Macau. With this reversion, Apollomics reconsolidates its ownership across the U.S., Europe, and the broader Asia-Pacific region. This consolidated ownership allows the Company to exercise unencumbered strategic control over vebreltinib’s clinical development and future commercialization in the U.S., Europe, and the broader Asia-Pacific region, maximizing Apollomics’ flexibility to pursue future global partnerships and value-creating opportunities.

About Apollomics Inc.

Apollomics Inc. is an innovative clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company focused on the discovery and development of oncology therapies with the potential to be combined with other treatment options to harness the immune system and target specific molecular pathways to inhibit cancer. Apollomics' lead program is vebreltinib (APL-101), a potent, selective c-Met inhibitor for the treatment of non-small cell lung cancer and other advanced tumors with c-Met alterations, which is currently in a Phase 2 multicohort clinical trial in the United States and other countries.
